A DAY IN MY DREAM WORLD

I woke up on a Sunday morning yet I was feeling very tired and sleepy. I came to the living room then I realized I was alone in the house with my pet Jimmy. I started rejoicing “Yohoo! Yohoo!, there is no one to stop my sleep limits”. Few minutes later Jimmy started howling so loud it almost tore my ear drums. I wondered he never does so. What happened to him? I remembered “Oops... I forgot to feed Jimmy”. I rushed to the kitchen and fed him food before my neighbors could hear his noise and complain.

I sat on my cozy little bed. I soon fell asleep. I felt something was not right. The air was much cleaner and everything was pink.”Hello” said the sweet voice but I got terrified .I began to run fast that I could beat the World`s fastest athlete. Soon I was surrounded by millions of awful creatures .I was short of breath. I didn`t even dare to look back. I decided to cover my ears with cute kitty mufflers.”Alas!! It was of no use”. I decided to see them face to face. To my surprise they were all cute Barbie dolls! There was pin drop silence. After a while I saw a giant chariot approaching me. I began to swing my arms back and forth. The chariot went back and forth. When I started swinging my arms side to side the chariot moved side to side.

Sleeping in my cozy bed,
Making the sound “ARR.., ARR...”,
The whole World around me is pink,
Where I can`t even blink,
The voices are very sweet,
Like the birds tweet,
My arms are on a cast,
My legs are so fast.

The barbies trying to wake me up. Soon I realized barbies were none other than mom and dad who were trying to wake me up on Monday morning. Finally I saw somebody winking at me. To my surprise it was none other than my Barbie doll. I was astonished to see a Barbie kingdom in my Bedroom as I saw in my dreams.
