

“A Superpower I Wish I had”

By: Willow Diffley

{In this story, ‘Ira’ is going to represent me & my dream superpower. Enjoy!}

Dear Diary.....

March 17th, 2025

Morning guys..! I’m Ira, a 14 year old girl with BIG dreams and a totally dorky mind! If you couldn’t tell, I’m not the “popular” type. Fantasy is where I belong, not in the real world because. If I’m being honest....The real world sucks, like, totally, absolutely, astonishingly, sucks! But in my world, I live how I want. But shh..! I’m a superhero with a super cool power, I know, I’m totally awesome! Uh oh...My moms coming and she might find me awake, gotta go..!

Morning guys..! Wanna hear something crazy that happened today? Well, I was roaming the halls when suddenly I felt a weird shiver down my spine. It was weird but, Not too abnormal for me.

The day goes by and all I hear is that annoying clock going, "tick...tick...tick..." "Will the clock ever shut up..!?" I whisper to my bestie Chloe. She rolled her eyes at me before she turned back to her textbook, her eyes stuck to it like glue. I sighed annoyed before turning back to read as well.

I tapped my pen against my desk anxiously awaiting for class to be over, but soon enough, I heard it..The bell rang and everyone packed up and ran out in a flash of an eye! I was about to leave as well with Chloe before I felt that odd shiver again...The room went cold and I felt a small drop of water, then the room felt warmer than usual. The air also was more aggressive, so I shut the window. What was happening? Am I going insane..?

My breath was heavy and sweat dripped from my very palms...I looked around, everyone had left for lunch, including Chloe. My teacher went to the break room leaving me alone, the air was tense and the shiver made my knees weak. That's when something changed in me, I felt different. But what was it..? That's when my train of thought was broken by Chloe.

"Ira! We're gonna be late for lunch, plus, it's pasta day! And you know I do NOT, miss pasta day..!"

I turned to look at Chloe a bit, spaced out before replying,

"Oh..right, we best be going.."

I said my mind was still bouncing around in confusion. But, I pushed it all deep in my head as I walked off with Chloe, not knowing I was about to be thrown in a whirlwind of craziness.

We sat down as Chloe began to chow down her pasta while I just stared at my food, not daring to take a bite. Chloe noticed this and gave me her, 'Really..?' Glare, I couldn't help but roll my eyes.

"Come on! You gotta eat something..!"

She protested,

"I know, I know. I'm just..thinking.."

"Now is no time to think! It's lunch, eat your food like a normal person."

She said as she nudged me slightly on my arm, I sighed and picked up my fork.

Later that day, I was walking alone towards the creek near my house. Usually I came with Chloe but unfortunately, she had to study so she went home already. Birds chirped and branches snapped, the forest felt more eerie than normal, that's when I felt it but this time, it was letting me know it and its power was here..

The wind was hard, I felt the earth shake beneath me, the water from the creek began to glow as I wobbled from the shake of the earth. I walked closer to the water and that's when it began to creep up my hand like magic, it glowed and glimmered. It was insane, I felt like I was in a dream! A really cool, crazy, and totally awesome dream!

The next day my bully, Jessica, walked up to me.

"Yikes, your plastic surgeon did you dirty sweetie! You should ask for a refund."

She sneered, her minions, Lila, Mila and Kyla. All snickered behind her, their names weren't always Lila, Mila, and Kyla. their names are actually Lilac, Miley, and Kris but Jessica said their names were ugly and dumb. So she changed them! Such a brat right? That girl definitely needs a new attitude..!

While Jessica and her minions laughed, Chloe stood up. I knew exactly what she was about to do and I tried to stop her but it was too late...

"Hey Jessica! You must think your 'so cool' with your attitude and rich daddy but really, your just those nasty pick me girls who EVERYONE hates~"
Chloe said proudly, Jessica scowled at Chloe and the two got into a huge fight spitting nasty words back and forth.

Finally once Jessica was walking away she opened the lid of her smoothie and dropped it on my head while I was sitting down talking to Chloe.
"Whoops~ sorry, you and the trash can look a lot alike!"

I had enough! I shout at Jessica, nasty words going through my brain and coming out my mouth like a tornado! Jessica growled and walked away but as she did, a huge gust of wind appeared blowing hair in someone's face making them spill their entire coffee on Jessica! Me and Chloe snickered as I spoke triumphant.

"Yikes! Karma has its favorites~"

Jessica stormed off as she snapped her fingers signaling for her minions to follow.

March 23rd, 2025

Me and Chloe begin to laugh at her reaction not being able to hold it in, soon enough, we caught the giggles! The day passed like it never even happened to begin with, I came home feeling better than ever!

"Ira, dear. Can you head out and water the plants please? I have to watch your little brother."

She called out the second I walked in, I sighed.

"Yes, Mamá!"

I replied while hanging my backpack up on its designated hook. I slid the door open & stepped outside, the air was fresh and beautiful as the warmth of the sun gazed across my face. I sighed in relaxation, "This is paradise." I thought before heading towards the garden, I was about to water the plants when I realized I didn't have the watering can! Whoops...My fingers felt wet and I got this crazy idea! What if I tried to water the plants by myself? I lifted my hands taking a deep breath.

"You got this, Ira."

I whispered to myself before I clouded my thoughts with water and water only. It felt like a tsunami had hit my hands! I looked down to see water dripping from my hands like magic, that's when it finally made sense! I had the power to possess nature's 4 main elements, water, earth, fire, and wind. Since then, my life has done nothing but change.

Well, that's my crazy story guys! But shh, because not all of it was made up..~
