

Hi. I'm Missy. This is my husky, Cookie. The other people are my BFFs, Laela, Summer and Lola.

"Come on girls," said Missy. "Wait up, Missy!" said Summer. "Look, a door in the woods!"

The kids went through the mysterious door. Then they were in a magic forest. "Missy, what happened ? Why do you have pink and red wings?"

"Hang on!" said Missy. "We are dragons!" Cookie was disappearing...

Suddenly a queen was standing in front of them. "Welcome," said the queen. "Who, who, who are you?" asked Summer. "Well, I am the magic Queen. "Please follow me," said the Queen.

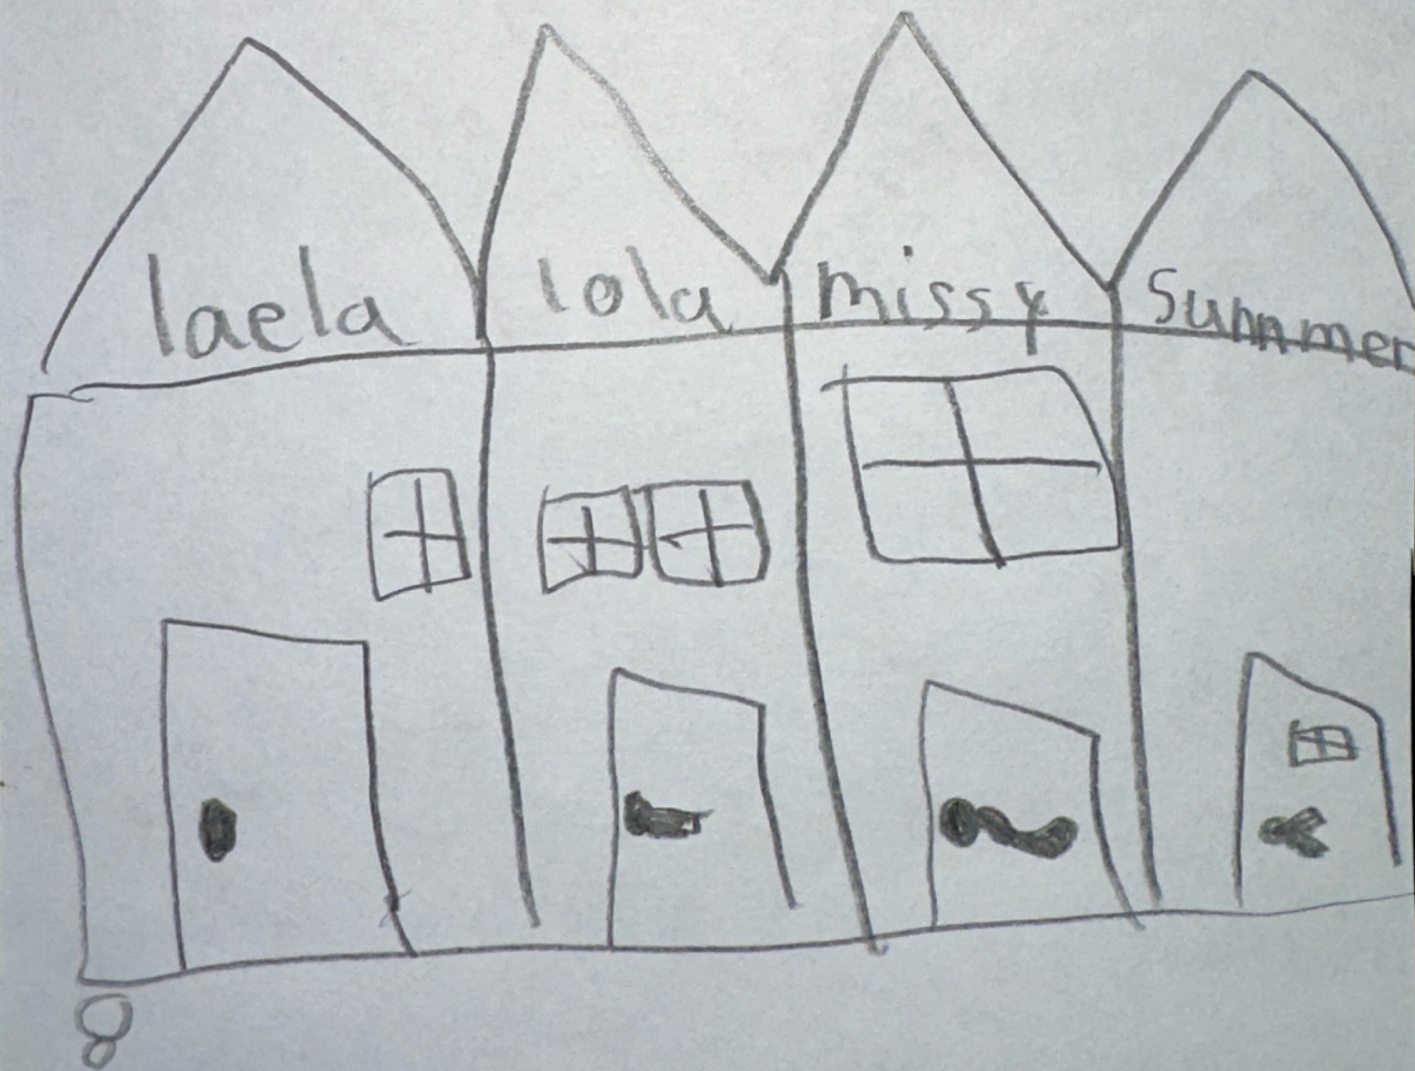

"Do you mind moving your wing, Missy?" said Laela. "I can't see and the Queen said we should look around."

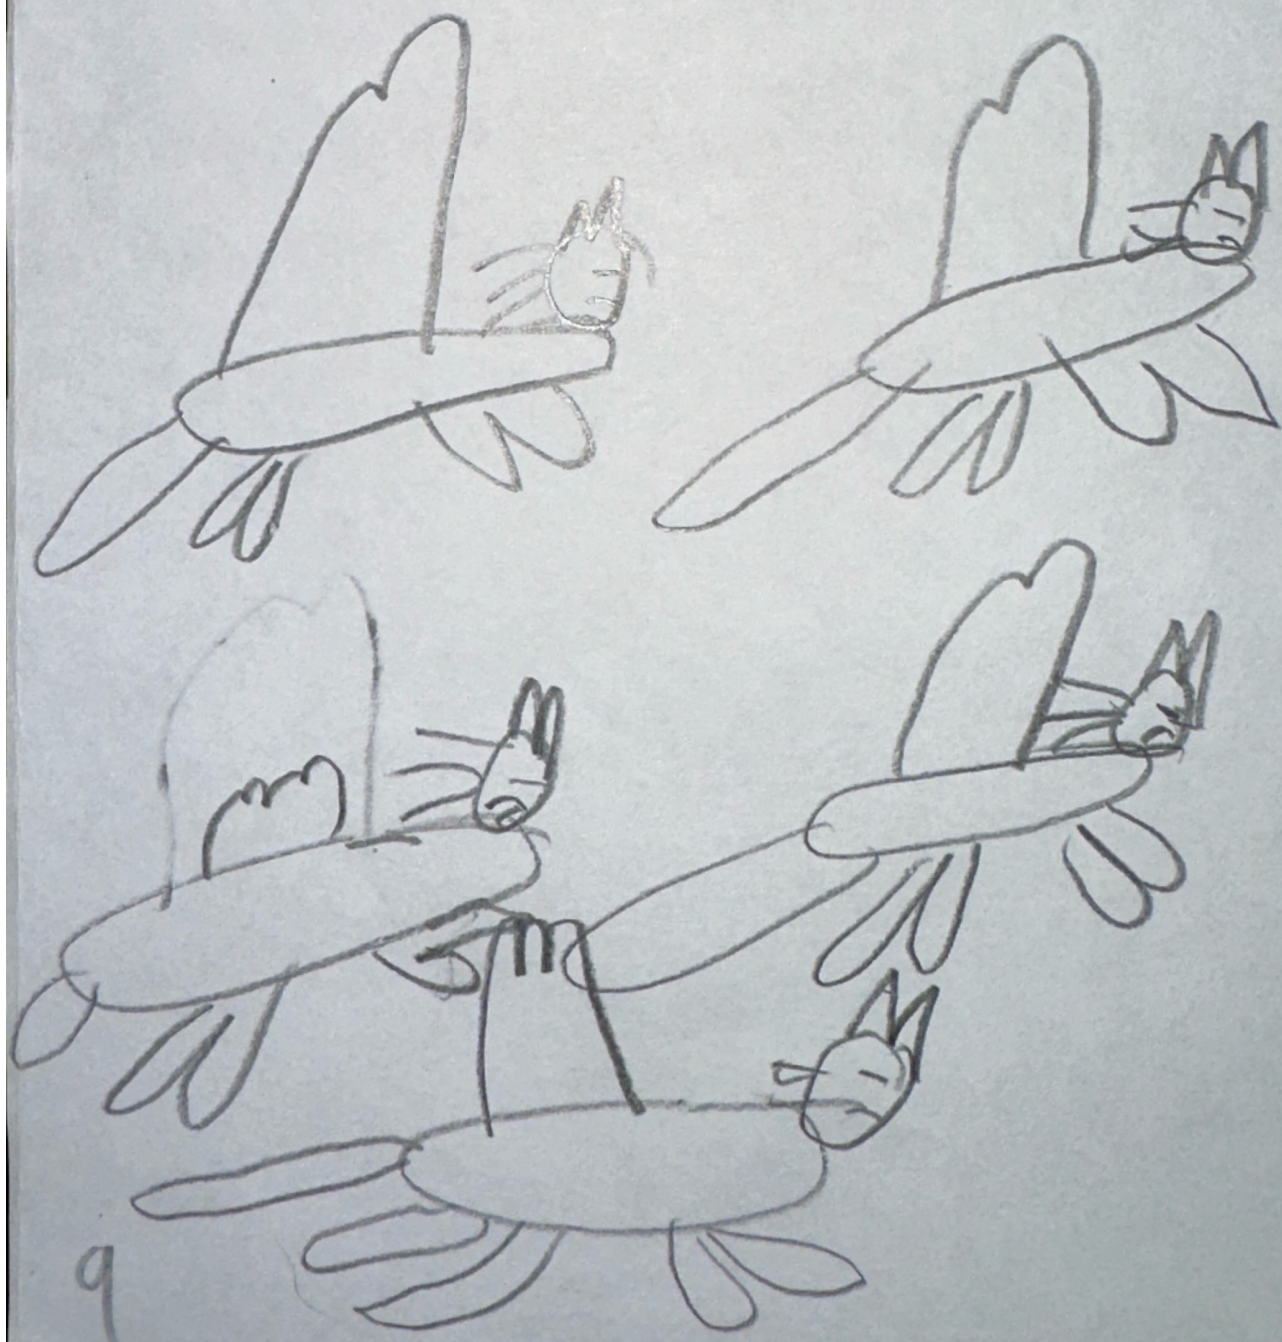

Then the Queen disappeared. While the girls were taking a look around, an angry flying cat attacked them.

The cat was hissing at them and the girls were running for their lives. They spotted little houses with their names on them. They dashed inside the houses marked with their names. Inside was pretty nice!

After they were sure the cat was gone,
they went for a stroll. Then an ARMY of flying cats came at them. "RUN!"
said Laela.

They ran and ran and ran, but the cats chased after them. The girls were terrified! Then they saw Cookie.

Cookie led them to the door portal.
The girls Jumped through the door and were saved by Cookie the awesome dog!

"The end"