

CARLY CRUST IS INVISIBLE

"I wish I could be invisible" thought Carly Crust who lived in Macaroni City. "If I was, I could surprise my siblings, travel anywhere, and make April fools day more fun!" But of course this dream she had would never come true. So every day she woke up to find herself really sad. But it wouldn't stay like this for long. "Just another boring day" Carly thought. Carly got ready for school and was about to leave when she saw something on the front door. It was a ticket! But where to? She started to get very curious until..... "THUMP" Carly quickly turned around only to find herself on the streets of Macaroni City. Had she teleported? She wondered if this was somehow related to the ticket she still had in her hand..... She looked at her ticket and what she read almost made her jump out of her shoes!!! It read "Do you want to be invisible? Are you looking to surprise your siblings, travel anywhere, and make April fools day more fun? Well you're in luck all you need to do is come to Eggshell Avenue!" Then Carly Crust's heart dropped. Eggshell Avenue was one of the worst streets in the entire Macaroni City! When you stepped onto even one brick on that Avenue eggshells would come flying at you!!! But then she had a mischievous idea! "What if I become invisible and then go into the avenue to become a member of the Invisible People Group?" She knew that everyone in Macaroni City had superpowers so sswhat if she went to Grandpa Gummy Bear to get his invisible cloak?!?! After a long walk to Grandpa Gummy Bear's house she told him her idea and he agreed! Carly's heart leapt for joy! After going to Eggshell Avenue, Carly finally got membership to the Invisible People Group! She returned the cloak to Grandpa Gummy Bear and went home with her own cloak. It was the best day of her life! Carly could not sleep at all that night. She rolled around in bed thinking of all the things she could do with the cloak and finally fell asleep! At 8:43 am she woke up and found herself trying out her new cloak! 1 MONTH LATER..... It was April Fools day and Carly Crust played tricks on her family..... But what she didn't know was that her sister had heat vision power so that busted her secret, her brother had teleportation skills so he could teleport anywhere to get away from Carly, her mother had mind reading powers so she knew what Carly was thinking, and lastly her father was the fastest runner in all of Macaroni City so he could get away from her speedy quick! And guess what?!?! Her family played tricks on her! It was a prank battle! That day was the best day in the world for Carly and her family! No day would ever be the same! And finally Carly Crust was happy!