

The first thing I do in the morning is wash my face with my magical sea shell sink, with a magical mirror too. After that I brush my teeth with my pink toothbrush that has pearls on it.

When I'm done getting ready for the day I eat breakfast. Turtle pancakes! Not real turtles, that would be weird.

Then I get dressed into my neat mermaid tail because we can take our mermaid tails off whenever it's like a different part of the day, like night or evening. Even for a ceremony.

When I'm all set in my mermaid tail I go swimming with magical dolphins. Then I have lunch with the Dolphins, and we eat fish sticks but not real fish sticks. We have a big tea party and it's lots of fun.

When we finish lunch we go swimming for pearls. By the time we get all our pearls it's time to go home and I take a little nap.

I'm all rested after my nap and then my parents come home from a party. I tell them all about my day. They make my favorite dinner which is mac and cheese. By the time I finish dinner we still have a little more time left so I go have a long long long long long long long party that lasts ten hours.

I finally go home after the party and go to bed in a big sea shell with a canopy over it. My parents tuck me in and the next day I do it all over again.
