

Puzzled on the Last Day

By Felicity June Galgocy

It was the last day of school. We sat down in our seats and waited for our teachers to come start class, but they never showed up! We waited about 10 minutes. Then I looked inside my desk for something to do. Instead, I found a strange puzzle piece. Mishika looked over at the puzzle piece I had, then looked inside her own desk. "Hey, I have one too, Felicity!" Mishika whispered. Gabby saw both of us looking at puzzle pieces and reached inside her desk, pulling out one too. I looked at both my friends "Do you think these 3 pieces might go together?". We connected the 3 puzzle pieces together. I stood up "Everyone! Look inside your desks! See if you have a puzzle piece in there!". One by one each classmate pulled a puzzle piece out. "Let's work together to make the puzzle! Maybe this is a clue as to where Mrs. Weber and Mrs. Drake have gone!"

I cleared off my desk and watched as my classmates joined their puzzle pieces together. As Andrew placed the last puzzle piece to the others, the puzzle started to shine brightly! It glittered until we could not look anymore. Suddenly it stopped and a note appeared in the puzzle. It read "Students, you passed the test with teamwork and perseverance! Well done! Please come join us for a special class meeting in the Teacher's Lounge!"

We walked together through the hallway, past the library, to the Teacher's Lounge. We knocked. The door opened and Mrs. Weber and Mrs. Drake jumped up and yelled "Happy Last Day of School! Welcome to the ice cream and cupcake party! You earned it for all of your hard work this year!" It was the best day last day of school in history!
