

“BENEFIT” – Tractor at work – A Halloween farm story

Vroom Vroom. Benefit revved his engine, but he got stuck. He drove for a minute, but he still got stuck. Somebody came and gave him a change in his axle. The new grease that somebody added was leaking. So, the axle fell down. And then “Maadaajaa”, a Halloween ghost got in.

A pickup truck came to catch a pumpkin that the ghost picked from the pumpkin patch. The ghost drove back in that secret pickup truck. “Plew plew”, a flash of light happened. “Yip yip”, a pig was eating hay when he was not supposed to, so he was yipping all around town.

Then there was another flash of light. “Poooyap” a horse jumped out. “Crack-a-crack” a basket crashed. And then “Jalapooo” the hay and straw basket flew back up through a hole. And all the good straw and hay were taken away by the flying basket. The ghost appeared before the basket. And the basket jumped!

Look! Suddenly, what was on top of the hill?! It was a black cat. It was a cat that liked to steal. It was stealing the basket. Now the basket was flying back up.

The buddy who put on a bird costume was flip flopping. He got out 2 black bird ears and put them on his ears. Then he got his black bird eyes out and put them on his eyes. And he saw somebody else looking like a bird coming in. Then his fingers got 5 extenders that he put on his right hand. Then his left hand got another 5 extenders. He saw someone look like a bird even more. Then one big extender went through a slot. Then he put the little slot on his head.

The ghost jumped. Benefit was still stuck.
