

Crazy Boo! By: Ariel Welch

It was Halloween night, every house was lit up, decorations were up, children were even getting tricks! But this Halloween was different. Someone had toilet-paper, and threw it around Mrs. Dangle's home! Ryan has seen someone wearing a bed sheet to disguise as a ghost. So then, Ryan gathered all the people who dressed up as ghosts and asked questions such as, "Which one of you did it? Who and why? Tell me, now!" Nobody said anything. So Ryan created challenges to find the culprit. The first challenge is, "Who has the best throw?" The first ghost went and got 5ft. The second ghost went and got 9ft. The last ghost went and got 8ft. Ryan says, "Nobody was close to 13ft except.." Ryan looks directly at the second ghost, "YOU!! Did you do it?!" The second ghost says, "Wasn't me, look!" Took off the head piece. "I'm actually wearing ghostbusters! My brother told me to carry his costume so that's what I did!" Ryan looks shocked for a minute and says, "Well then, you're free to go!" The second ghost goes back to find his family's home. The second challenge was, "How high can your hand go?" Ryan says, "The ghost did a 45 degree angle." The first ghost does a 90 degree angle and so did the third ghost. Ryan was shocked. It wasn't one of them. He talked to his friend for hours and hours about the situation and realized something. Ryan asked his family to throw the stuffed animal. All of them had a 90 degree angle. Then Ryan gathered his two best friends and asked, "Throw this rock." His first friend threw a 90 degree angle and his second friend threw a 50 degree angle. So his friends, family, and mystery ghosts tell him to try. Ryan had done a 45 degree angle and said, "WAIT! How is this me?! I've been trying to solve this mystery! Wait, lemme do the first challenge!" Ryan has gone 13ft. Then Ryan almost began to speak until he got interrupted by his sister. Ryan's sister says, "Wake up Ryan, we are going to be late to church!" Ryan gets up and says, "Wait what? Was it just a dream? Oh thank goodness. The whole family and friends were about to be mad and yell at me." "Wait what? Eh, whatever! Now get dressed, we have to be there by 11:30am!" Ryan's sister says. Ryan gets dressed, brushes teeth, and gets to church on time. The next second, when Ryan leaves church at 5pm in the car to go trick or treating, he sees someone actually throwing toilet-paper on Mrs. Dangle's home! Now this isn't fake.
