

- The dog snuggles me. The snow was falling from the sky and I just knew it was cold outside. The house was quiet and the lights were dim when I was snuggling with my dog. It felt warm and cozy. The dog was with me and it felt magical. I enjoy petting my dog because I don't get to see my dog a lot. I do get to see my dog in the morning and in the night. I don't see him in the daytime because I am at school. Then it starts snowing and I want to go outside. I played snowball fights with my friend. Then we went inside and took a nap.
