

My Cozy Day At Home

Cozy days are my favorite days, especially on cold winter days. So this is how it would start.

When I wake up, the sky is gloomy and dark. Flurries are falling from the sky. I would put on my cozy winter socks, then I head into the bathroom and brush my teeth.

Next, I would go to the living room and eat cereal with warm milk. Then, I read a book by the fireplace for some time. After that, I would call my friends over to my house. We would get cozy, put a blanket on ourselves, and watch a winter movie. But by then, my mom would have made us hot chocolate. Yum!

Then, I would hear the doorbell ring, Ding-Dong! The pizza is here! My stomach was craving for pizza. Me and my friends receive the pizza and the hot chocolate. The hot chocolate mug felt so warm, and the marshmallows felt so soft. The pizza's aroma was delicious. Both of them taste so good.

After the movie, my friends and I would play chess, dominoes, and board games. Next, we would all have a sleepover so, we would then go to sleep. And the next morning we would wake up.
