

Have you ever had a person that keeps you safe? Well, I'll tell you more about this person. My mom is my safe person because when we go to a carnival, she holds my hand tight that way me and my mom don't get lost. Me and my mom and I also got to eat and try yummy foods and saw a stranger and he said, "Come here," and then my mom said, "No stop it," like she really loves me. Then we speedwalked really fast away from the man and it was very scary and just look how mean my mom was. I was about to cry like that is how scary it was. But thankfully my mom saved me. I can just think about it since I'm talking about this. I feel like I'm going to cry now. Oh my god this is going to totally be a nightmare. I can't cry. Come on, don't cry.
