

Someone or something that protects me and why this feels like shelter: I chose Light as the something that protects me

Light is My Shelter

Mara Bella Occhuizzo

Light
You never fade
always, you return

An illusion to those who cannot see your power
Those poor souls, who cannot see and be free
Trapped in the darkness of their mind

Light
Implanted on the places we call home
The beacon of what is and what could be

The lace of light Silhouettes the hope that attaches itself to a new beginning Blinding the weary
Empowering the bold

Light
The mightiest of shelters
Protector of my soul
