

A Magical Journey To Abunda

Once upon a time, there was a yellow school bus up on a hill, outside a house. This was Tina's house. Tina is a five year old happy and playful girl, who loves adventures. She loves being with her friends Saavi, Miraan and Vibhu. The bus that came to pick-up today was not their usual bus, but was a magical bus. A bus that allows kids see their favourite thing outside the window. This bus also took you to magical places. On the way to school, the bus suddenly went up in the sky and the children saw magical things. Vibhu saw it raining and muddy puddles everywhere. Saavi saw a rainbow. Tina saw an unicorn flying by and Mivaan saw strawberry fields. Suddenly the bus landed among the strawberry fields. This place not only had strawberry fields. It also had water fountains and toy-houses. This magical place was called Abunda - where you found everything in Abundance. The children were super excited to play in the doll houses and jungle gyms, jump in the fountains and pick strawberries to eat. While the children made merry they were really out of control. They took more strawberries than they could eat. The native people of Abunda who were happy to see the children at first became sad seeing the children out of control. Tina felt sorry too. The magical bus called her and told her there is so much for everyone in Abunda and the true magic is in sharing. Tina called all her friends and told them about this. So they began cleaning up the place and sharing with the people of Abunda. This made everyone happy and suddenly there were more fountains, toy houses and strawberries. Now it was time to go back to school. As the bus went up in the sky everyone saw a rainbow above Abunda! On this magical journey the children learnt that there is enough for everyone's need but not their greed.
