

MY DREAM VACATION

My Mom always tells me about her grandparents home which is in a small village. In South India. It has lots of trees and farms. Surrounded by a river. The most important thing is people are very loving and selfless. They share food, cloths and toys with there family and friends.

I really wish I get a chance to see the village and spend time with the people. I want to learn how to ride a motor bike with my grandpa. I wish I could go to "Khadims" shop where they make crosis and shoes. I wish I can try all the beautiful clothes in the village. I want to taste different kinds of food, people invite us to their homes.

My grandma is really good at gardening. I want to learn how to seed plants and harvest vegetables. I want to visit the temples in the village, I also want to dance while it is raining. I also want to go on a boat ride.

Finally the best Story my mom told me was about Sleeping
on the terrace of their home.
I want to sleep in the backyard
and watch shooting stars from my bed. I want to explore all the above things and enjoy my time with the people at the village.
