

The monster who never smiled.

October 30

Monday

Once there lived three monsters. The little one was named Charles. But Charles had a problem. The problem was that he always looked grumpy.

His parents tried to make him look happy but nothing worked.

Tuesday

Trick or treat was just 5 minutes away! Charles was so excited to trick or treat in his new neighborhood.

So Charles put on his costume and ran to the first door.

knock knock

No one answered.

knock

A kid opened the door and saw Charles. He didn't want to stay near Charles so he quickly gave Charles a candy and ran back inside. So Charles went to a few more houses but he either got the same result or they didn't bother opening doors for a grumpy looking monster. He went back home and told his mom what happened. Then, his mom told him to always have a cheerful face, because you wouldn't want someone grumpy on your door.

So Charles realized that and ran back to resume trick or treating. But this time he tried to put on a smile. When he was going to a house a group of boys spotted him and asked him to join. So he got soooooo much candy!!!!

!!! So he went back home and he got about 1000 pieces of candy and he was so happy so he thanked his mom and never had a grumpy face on him ever again.

The end